AN UPDATE FROM O-BAR-O CABINS:

ALL CABINS ARE OPEN & READY!

Hey friends,

If you've been following the news or checking in on Durango, you might have heard about recent flooding along the river. We wanted to reach out directly to let you know how things look here at O-Bar-O.

First and foremost: All of our cabins are completely open, fully functional, and waiting for you. All guest resources, comforts, and amenities inside and around the cabins are 100% intact.

While the property did sustain some high-water impact, our team is already hard at work cleaning things up:

- The Cabins: Completely untouched by damage — warm, welcoming, and ready for your stay.
- The Driveway: Fully intact and open for vehicles, though it's currently being prepped for some fresh regraveling.
- The Front Field: Needs some post-flood debris clearing, which we're tackling right now.
- Pearl Island Bridge: As a precautionary measure, our trusty bridge was safely removed during the event.

We are so grateful for all the kind check-ins from our O-Bar-O family. The river is still flowing, the mountain air is crisp,and our slice of Durango is as special as ever. If you have any questions about your upcoming getaway, please don't hesitate to give us a call.

We can't wait to host you!

Warmly,
Herb, Natalie and Pearl
